

CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGISTS – 2 full-time positions

Main St. Psychological Centre | Posted September 20, 2019

Location: Toronto, Ontario

We have immediate openings for two additional full-time clinical psychologists to join our well established group private practice. We offer a great location in one of Toronto's most desired communities (the Beach). We pride ourselves as a general family based practice entrusted to provide tremendously wide-ranging psychological services within a family-oriented and professional community.

Think about joining our current team of 6 experienced psychologists. Consider working in beautiful office facilities, relying on exceptional office supports, enjoying a diverse caseload, focusing your practice broadly on psychological treatment, earning good income... and working with really nice people/colleagues. Maybe think about living in this great community.

We are overwhelmed with referrals and need at least one more psychologist practicing with children, youth and families, and one more psychologist to work with adults and particularly couples. Consider bringing along a friend or partner with whom you would like to work. For those interested, there is opportunity to transition into ownership and management of the group practice.

We are seeking clinical psychologists who would be a good addition to our team and welcome interest from psychologists with varying levels of experience. Supervision can be provided if required.

Doctoral level clinical psychologists registered with the College of Psychologists of Ontario or eligible for registration will be considered.

Please feel free to contact Dr. John VanDeursen directly to discuss/explore possible interest in joining our group, or feel free to forward your Curriculum Vitae with a cover letter.
